Inspired by nature. Perfected by Kronodesign®

We are proud to make environmentally friendly products that carefully combine designs and textures, bringing an authentic feel of nature to our homes. But to be able to deliver such a diversity of patterns and textures, an extensive research and development process is required. It starts long before a decor goes into our production lines. It needs a lot of years of collecting feedback and working with our customers to determine what is important for them.

Every new Kronodesign® collection results from hard work in identifying design trends, finding materials, and carefully treating them to reach the desired results. A whole tree, veneer, artwork, or even salvaged material could easily become the creative spark behind some of our most trendy designs. With the help from our team's craftsmanship, every little piece of material could end up somewhere around the world as part of a new design story told by a talented architect.

After finding the right look, the material goes through a process of digitalization where a high-resolution image allows our designers to print, combine, and modify it to achieve a well-balanced picture. Adapting to the industrial standards of production, the decor is ready to roll off the production lines and help architects worldwide unleash the full potential of their creativity.

This is our Trends Origin Stories

Made by individuals with a deeply rooted connection to the natural world. Each of the stories reveals a new personality type with distinctive taste and experience and materials that shape their environments and affect the way in which they live, think and feel.

THE NOMAD

Honest and authentic

Born travelers, the Nomad picks up on influences as they go. Their homes bear witness to this, featuring objects made from an unusual hand-woven cloth, or sculptural driftwood pieces that tell a story of their lives on the move. They favor textures and patterns drawn from nature with a minimal amount of finishing. The Nomads are attracted to the weathered oak finishes and the cross-weave textile effects that remind them of authentic artisan creations.

Inspired by experiences,
the Nomad reflect nature in everything they see

The painted walls, the beautifully warm oak of the locally crafted cabinet, and the unevenly raised texture of hand-woven cushions are some of the features of the nomadic spiritual home. A total mash-up of styles and colors that somehow meld together in the most natural of combinations. There is a handmade appearance to most of the items and accessories around the room, a personal and unique touch drawn together by the pale, unprocessed palette of shades and textures.

Weathered timbers and natural fabric textures are the basis of the Nomad look

Relax and kick back in this unaffected, almost biophilic hacienda. It is plain and straightforward, allowing Nomads from everywhere to take comfort, dine and unwind. The harmonious feel created by the creeping of the outside-inside is reflected in everything you see, from the polished timbers worn by the years of use to the woven fibers formed into a multitude of functional structures. The artistic, almost rustic-looking materials are interwoven with natural elements. The large open space has been crafted by a skilled hand, and every surface has an evident character and care while being functional and undoubtedly decorative.

THE ADAPTABLE

Embracing every challenge

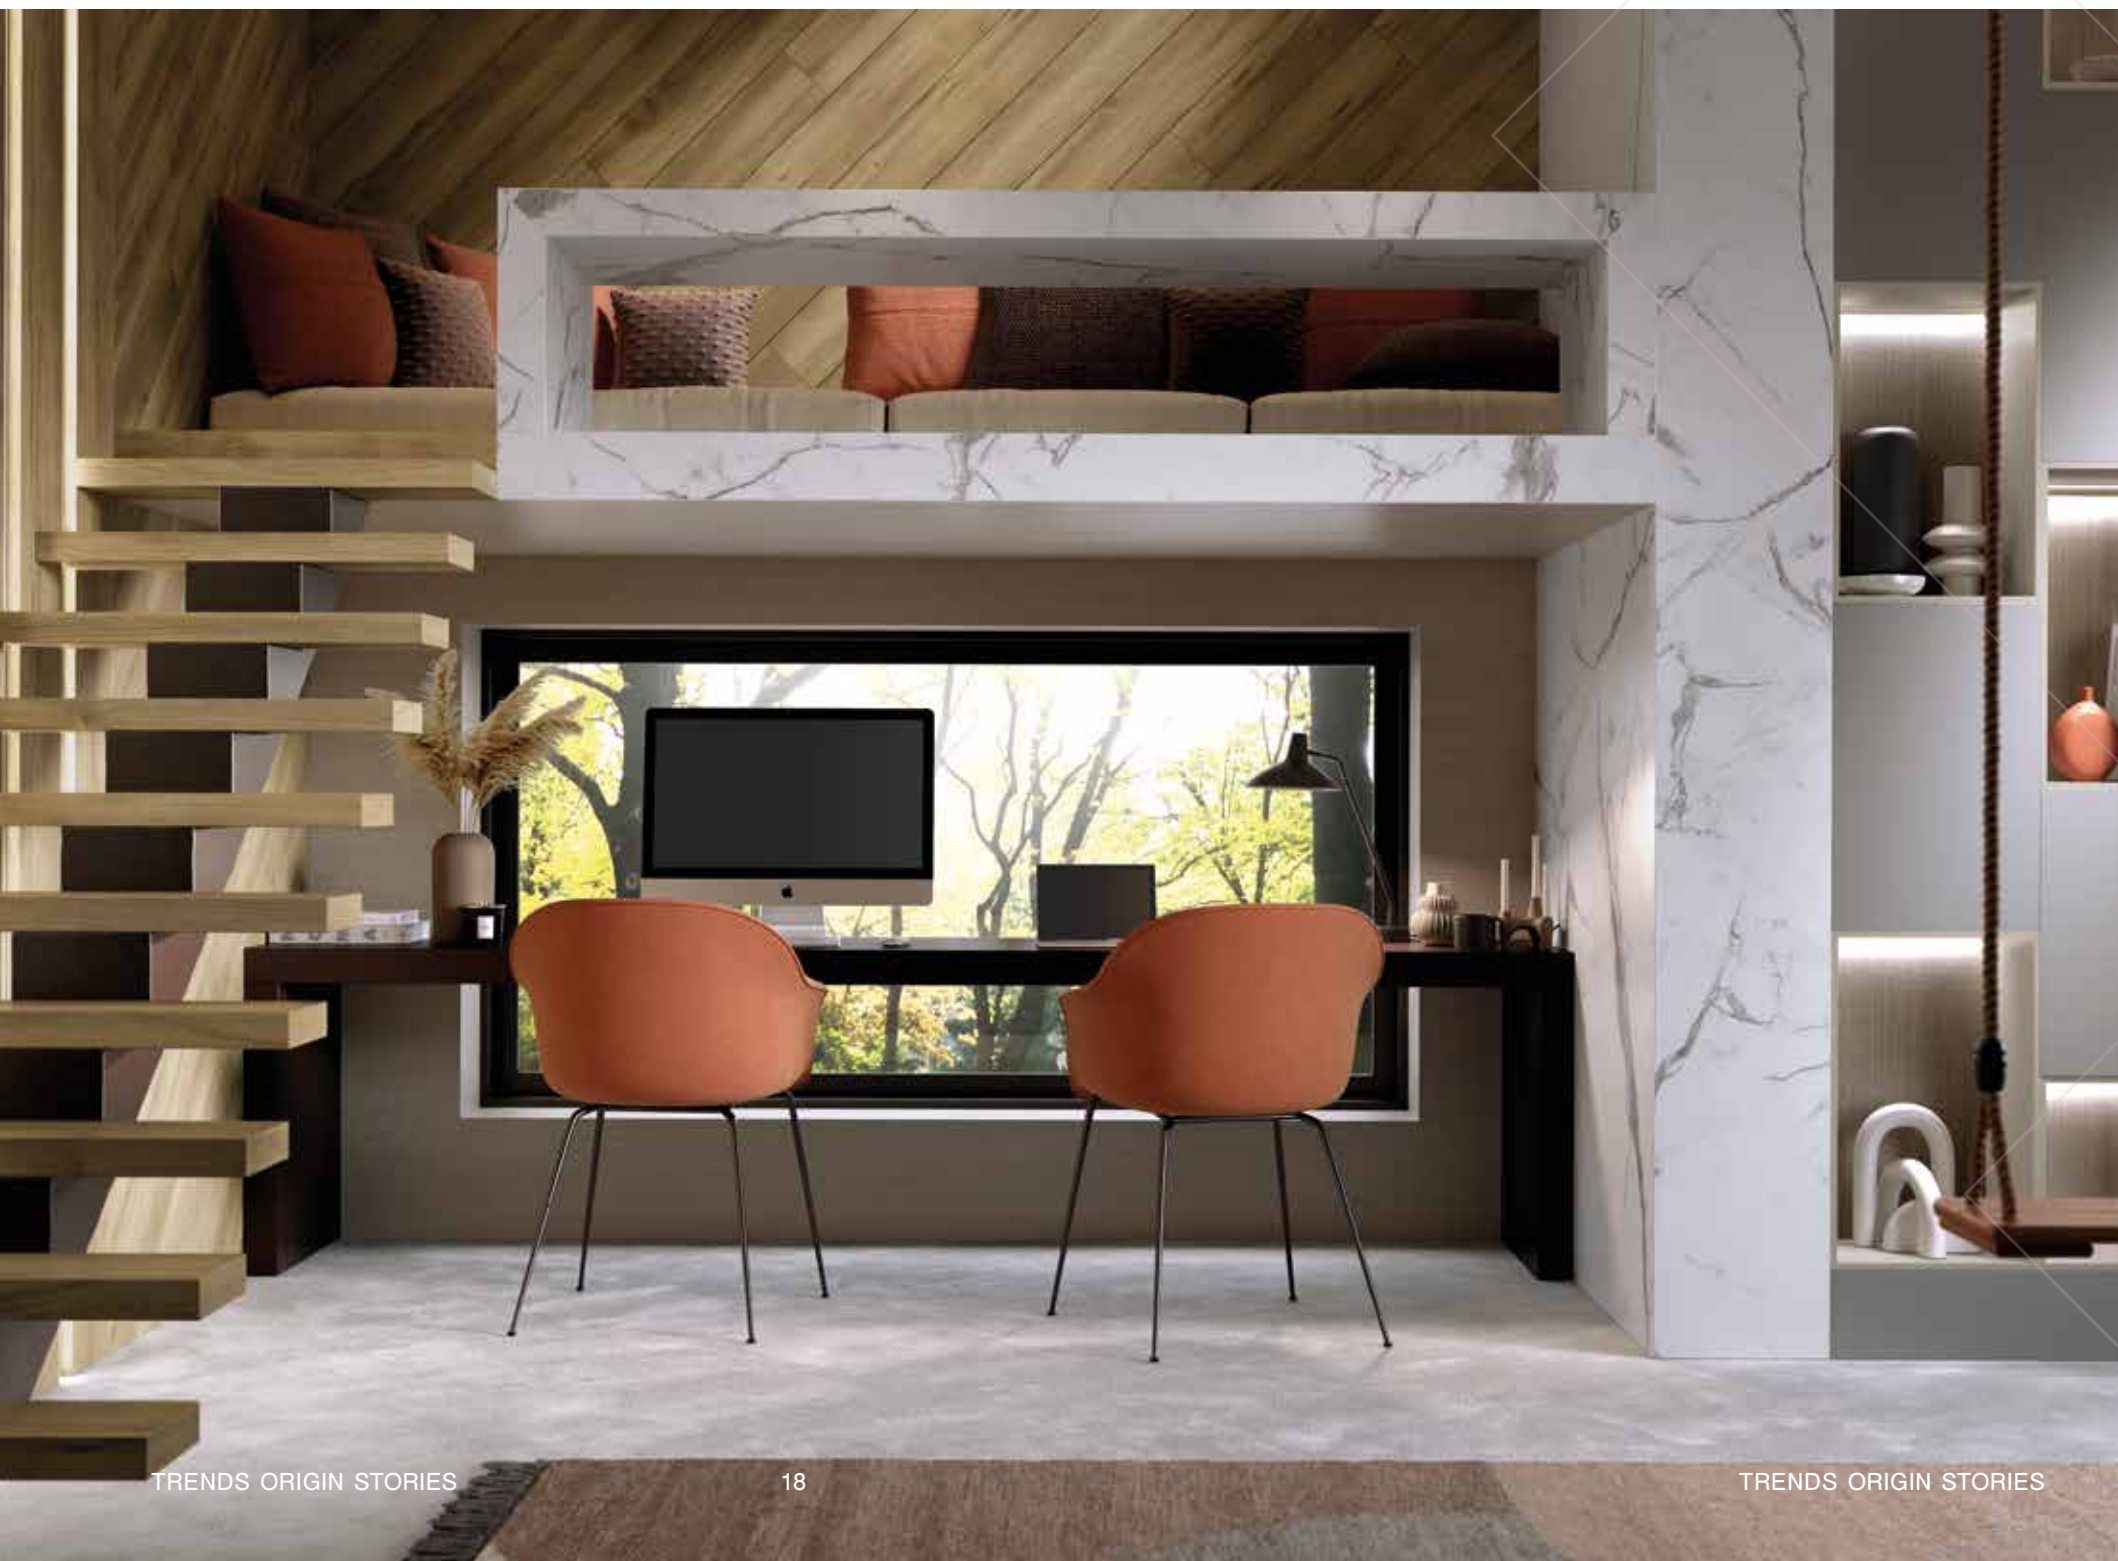

Cheerfully taking the path of the least resistance, the Adaptable can make the very best of any opportunity. When Plan A doesn't work, they always have a contingency plan in place, so embracing working from home by creating multi-functional spaces that seamlessly include an office space without impacting domestic comforts, is quickly adopted. Muted warm tones, natural materials like wood, textile, and stone, and a soft, hazy ambiance ensure flexible and balanced spaces where they can work, play and relax.

Naturally inventive,
the Adaptable make a positive
of every situation

Blending into the surroundings is the secret to building a genuine work-life balance and a harmonious work environment. Zonal design can still be seamless, a fusion of style and purpose, using common themes to maintain harmony. Muted tones combine with natural woodgrains, marble, and cozy textiles for a mix of calm yet clinical,
a place of thoughtfulness and efficiency.

Skilful combinations are key to the Adaptable way of mixing work and play

A welcoming kitchen area and break-out space that feel more like home are a great way of balancing the evolving office dynamics. The smooth transition from one place to another allows for cleverly combining co-working and leisure. The versatility of the decorative materials is essential to creating a multifunctional interior. The main woodgrain decor with extra-deep pores is cleverly paired with dusky pink and dark brown nuances for a contemporary yet cozy retreat.

THE PASSIONATE

Making a statement

Successful, stylish, and confident enough to speak loud about their lifestyle, attitude, and tastes. The Passionate know what they want and have an abundance of energy they bring to their private and work spaces... Driven by emotions, their style might be extreme, rich, and opulent or severe minimalistic, but the focus of the mind and attention to detail will be striking. The creativity helps them kindle the energy required to stay passionate and motivated. This can be seen in the choice of impressively realistic woodgrains mixed with intense colors and powerful, statement stone and metal finishes.

Comfortable when surrounded by what they love, creating a jewellery box of a room is perfect for the Passionate.

A self-indulgent private interior that blurs the lines between a true masculine living room and a social hangout. It is an expression of personality that's single-minded and totally certain of itself. The design is all about comfort and practicality with plenty of class thanks to the rich, dark woodgrains and the strong marble, counterpointed with lustrous gemstone hues.

THE OPTIMIST

Looking forward to change

These are the world's early adopters, open-minded persons that want the latest version, the newest technology. They are comfortable being at the front of a trend, interested in experimenting, and always delighted to find something they haven't seen before. Cheerful, positive, offbeat decors take pride in the places they inhabit. Our reimagining of stone surfaces with concrete-like effects interests them, as do the pure and elegant woodgrains, gleaming metallics, and coral-inspired colors.

A bright, colorful, design-forward style
for daring Optimists

Sports and leisure clothing is no longer a niche market, and it seems that for some, there is no other style. Retail outlets take many forms, but the most appropriate surely encompass the energy and space of the great outdoors. High ceilings, lots of natural light, and colors referencing the blues of the sea and sky bring this space to life. The clean-cut forms are dressed in expressive wood with a vintage look and a synchronized texture, complemented by a versatile limestone decor in a grey concrete-like pattern.
